Note for the participants

The 13th Session of the Joint ILO/WHO Committee on Occupational Health will be held at the International Labour Office, in Geneva, from 9 to 12 December 2003. The opening plenary sitting which will be held in Room VII (R.2 level) of the ILO building will begin at 10:00.

The purpose of this Note is to assist participants in the Meeting to familiarize themselves with the organization and procedures of the Meeting so as to enable them to take an effective part, from the outset, in its work.

Agenda of the Meeting

After consultation with the World Health Organization, at its 285th Session (November 2002), the Governing Body of the International Labour Office decided that the 13th Session of the Joint ILO/WHO Committee on Occupational Health would be held from 9-12 December 2003 in Geneva.

The agenda of the meeting, as determined by the Governing Body of the ILO and with the agreement of the World Health Organization (WHO), is as follows:

1. Integrated approach to occupational safety and health;
2. Occupational safety and health management systems;
3. Advice on priority fields in occupational health.

The Office has issued, in English, three draft working documents on the three items of the agenda which, together with the working papers of the WHO, will serve as the basis for the Meeting’s work.

Composition of the Meeting

In accordance with a decision taken by the Governing Body at its 286th (March 2003) Session and with the agreement of the WHO, a committee consisting of 15 members has been established, nine appointed by the ILO and six appointed by the WHO. Three ILO members have been nominated after consultations with governments, three after consultations with the Employers’ group, and three after consultations with the Worker’s group the Governing Body. The consultations with governments resulted in nominations by the governments of Canada, China and the Russian Federation. The nine ILO members have been approved by the Governing Body.

Six experts have been nominated by WHO and they are from Colombia, Italy, Singapore, South Africa, Sweden and USA.

In addition, representatives of certain intergovernmental organizations and observers representing certain international non-governmental organizations have been invited to attend the Meeting.

Officers of the Meeting

The Officers of the Meeting shall consist of a Chairperson, a Vice-Chairperson and a Rapporteur. The Chairperson shall direct the debates with the assistance of the joint ILO/WHO secretariat. The Officers shall arrange the programme of work of the Meeting and shall distribute among themselves the duties of presiding over the discussion.

Advisers and substitutes

Experts may be accompanied by advisers. Any adviser who has been authorized to do so by the expert to whom he/she is attached shall have the right to participate in the Meeting but not the right to vote or to appoint a substitute.

An expert may, by notice in writing addressed to the Chairperson, appoint one of his/her advisers to act as his/her substitute. The notice shall specify the sitting or sittings at which the substitute will act for the expert. In that case, substitutes may take part in the debates and may vote under the same conditions as delegates.

Right to take part in the work of the Meeting

Representatives of official international organizations which have been invited by the Governing Body to be represented at the Meeting may participate in its proceedings without the right to vote.

The Chairperson may permit representatives of non-governmental international organizations with which the International Labour Organization has established consultative relationships and representatives of other non-governmental international organizations which have been invited by the Governing Body to observe the Meeting to make or circulate statements for the information of the Meeting on matters included in its agenda.

Voting and quorum

As the Joint Committee is an advisory body to the ILO and WHO, it is expected that the work of the committee will be conducted based on consensus. On rare occasions when there is an absence of consensus duly ascertained and announced by the Chairperson, decisions could be taken by a simple majority of the votes cast by the delegates to the Meeting who are present at the sitting and entitled to vote.

Working language of the meeting

The meeting will be conducted in English only.

Miscellaneous information

Transport to the ILO building

Participants coming by private car are asked to use car park P1. Please do not park in front of the main entrance.
