ILO Seminar: Combating Social Exclusion at the Workplace:
Corporate Social Responsibility in Hungary

Budapest, December 5, 2005

IBS Garden Hotel & Conference Centre
Tárogató u. 2-4, H-1021 Budapest

Background

“Combating Poverty and Social Exclusion in Central and Eastern Europe” is a three-year technical cooperation project funded by the Government of France and implemented by the ILO-SRO Budapest until March 2007. It covers five countries: Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland, Romania, and Slovenia.

The project aims at contributing to the fight against exclusion from employment and from social protection of vulnerable groups, with a special focus on youth, Roma, persons with disabilities and low-income women.

In Hungary, the project has as a specific objective of promoting equal opportunity and non-discrimination practices in companies based in the country, in the framework of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR).

Objective

ILO-SRO Budapest, in association with its partner organization Alliance of Social Professionals (www.3sz.hu) and the Hungarian Anti-Poverty network (www.hapn.hu), organizes a seminar to explore the concept of CSR.

The event will bring together the NGO representatives from Alliance of Social Professionals’ member organizations and aims to raise awareness on CSR and present how NGOs can benefit from companies’ social corporate policies. The seminar is expected to help NGOs in identifying windows of opportunity to interact with companies.

The seminar will be organized in a way to encourage active discussion from the participants. It will be conducted in Hungarian and English, with simultaneous interpretation.
